HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL PERIOD: from 1959 to 1967

SITE DESCRIPTION:

Location: The General Electric former Powerex site is located in an urban commercial area. The site consists of 55.4 acres of land located on the boundary of the town of Aurelius and the City of Auburn. The site is on West Genesee Street approximately 1/4 mile west of Veterans Memorial Parkway.

Site Features: The main site feature is the inactive production facility surrounded by parking areas and fields. Since the plant closed all that remains is the unoccupied manufacturing building and the concrete slabs of small sheds.

Current Zoning and Land Use: The site is currently inactive and zoned for industrial use. The surrounding parcels are currently used for a combination of small businesses to the north, west and east and residences to the south. The nearest residential area is on the south side of West Genesee Street, across from the site.

Past Use of the Site: The facility was used for electronics manufacturing. Waste industrial solvents were disposed of in one or two unlined evaporation ponds located on the property. This disposal took place from approximately 1962 to 1966 or 1967. Solvents were also stored in underground waste solvent storage tank from around 1966 until 1988 on-site which may have leaked.

RCRA Status: The former Powerex site, in addition to being a class 2 in active hazardous waste disposal site, is also subject to the requirements of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) and its implementing regulations including New York State's authorized hazardous waste program. The site does not presently have an operating permit but is subject to "interim status" requirements. An underground storage tank, above ground storage tank and a container storage area have all been closed under RCRA. Pursuant to RCRA, the site has an obligation to address contamination pursuant to RCRA corrective action requirements as well as the State Superfund.

Site Geology and Hydrogeology: The geology of the area is characterized by unconsolidated glacial deposits (soils) underlain by bedrock. The uppermost unit is overburden material (site soils) consisting of glacial lacustrine clay, silts and glacial till ranging from approximately 5 to 25 feet thick. The upper portion of the bedrock is composed of limestones of the Onondaga Formation and represents the shallow bedrock unit. Below the Onondaga Formation lies the Manlius Formation, referred to in the site reports and documents as the intermediate unit. The deeper bedrock units encountered at the site are, in order of depth, limestones and dolomites of the Rondout, Cobleskill and the Bertie Formations. In general, the deep bedrock is more fractured and more transmissive than the shallow and intermediate bedrock. Within the Bertie Formation is an interval comprised primarily of gypsum which has an average thickness of 5 feet. This is referred to in the site Reports as the D3 zone. This gypsum rich interval is pitted and has occasional voids from dissolution. This interval transmits large amounts of water and represents an important pathway for significant offsite contaminant migration.

The overburden groundwater flows toward local surface water bodies such as Crane Brook and the Owasco River, and also provides recharge to the underlying units. The depth to the overburden groundwater ranges from six to eleven feet. However this unit is greatly influenced by seasonal fluctuations and during the late fall, winter and early spring the water table occurs very close to the ground surface. In some areas of the site the seasonal range in the water table exceeds 11 feet. The shallow groundwater generally flows northward. The shallow zones can become dewatered locally, indicating that vertical fracturing extends through the underlying zones. The deep groundwater flows to the south. The deep aquifer receives groundwater recharge through fractures or karst features connecting the units. The site features also include swallets which directly connect the shallow groundwater to the deep zone. The contaminated deep groundwater, at a depth of 150 feet, is moving laterally in a southwestern direction from the site towards Union Springs and Cayuga Lake. The site contains surface drainage features that carry storm water away from the site after passing through an air sparging system in the last catch basin. During periods of high groundwater, contaminated shallow groundwater from the site discharges upward to the stream located just beyond the facility fence.

Related Site: The deep groundwater plume leaving the site is known as the Cayuga County Groundwater Contamination Superfund (CCGC) site and was placed on the National Priorities List (NPL) [NYS Registry ID No. ████████]. The off-site groundwater plume of contamination is being addressed by EPA pursuant to an EPA ROD issued in March 29, 2013. The CCGC ROD is being implemented through an order issued to GE under CERCLA. The success of the remedy for the former GE Powerex site is important to the full realization of the benefits of the remedy selected by EPA for the CCGC site.

ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS:

Nature and Extent of Contamination: Sampling has confirmed high levels of volatile organic compounds (VOCs) indicating the likely presence of dense non-aqueous phase liquid (DNAPL) in site soil and groundwater. The DNAPL contains a high percentage of liquid TCE. Based upon investigations, the primary contaminants of concern include the volatile organic compounds (VOCs) trichloroethene (TCE) and its daughter products cis-1,2-dichloroethene (DCE), trans-1,2-dichloroethene (DCE), and vinyl chloride (VC). The primary source areas at the site are the Waste Solvent Tank, North Evaporation Pit, and West Evaporation Pit. The secondary source areas at the site are the Laboratory Waste Solvent Tanks and the purported Fire Training Area. Soils - TCE was the most commonly detected VOC in the subsurface soils with concentrations ranging from 0.001 to 14,000ppm compared to the protection of groundwater Soil Cleanup Objective (SCO) of 0.47 ppm. Other contaminants exceeding the protection of groundwater SCOs are cis-1,2-DCE and VC. The contaminated soils exceeding the protection of groundwater SCOs are found to a depth of 16' or the top of bedrock. For the 55.4 acre site only 4.25 acres of subsurface soils exceed the protection of groundwater SCOs and these soils surround the building to the north, west and east. Less than half an acre of subsurface soils exceed the industrial use SCOs and are located in the Waste Solvent Tank Area, North Evaporation Pit and West Evaporation Pit, surrounding the building to the north and west.

The remaining acreage of the site, mostly to the north and west, meet unrestricted use SCOs and the protection of groundwater SCOs for VOCs. Soils were analyzed for metals and results were below the residential use SCOs. Soil contamination does not extend off-site.

Soil Vapor - Soil vapor was not evaluated at the site because it is unoccupied. The potential for Soil Vapor Intrusion will be evaluated for any off-site buildings that may be impacted by the shallow groundwater contamination to the west of the site. Groundwater - TCE, cis-1,2-DCE and vinyl chloride are the most commonly detected VOCs found in the overburden, shallow, and deep groundwater that exceed groundwater standards (5 ppb for TCE and cis-1,2-DCE; and 2 ppb for VC).

The overburden groundwater had detections of TCE, cis-1,2-DCE and VC at 1,900 ppm, 640 ppm and 36 ppm respectively. The VOC impacts in the overburden groundwater are in the North Evaporation Pit, West Evaporation Pit and Waste Solvent Tank. The overburden concentrations decrease rapidly with increasing distance from the primary source areas and have not migrated offsite. The overburden groundwater is greatly influenced by seasonal fluctuations with ranges exceeding 11 feet in locations. The shallow groundwater had detections of TCE, cis-1,2-DCE and VC at 840 ppm, 340 ppm and 100 ppm respectively in the primary source areas. TCE concentrations decreased downgradient from the source areas and it has not been detected above NYSDEC Class GW groundwater standard of 5 ppb in shallow groundwater offsite in recent years. However, cis-1,2-DCE and VC have migrated offsite in the shallow groundwater to the northwest of the facility and are above the NYSDEC Class GW groundwater standard 5 ppb and 2 ppb respectively. The deep groundwater had detections of TCE, cis-1,2-DCE and VC at 646 ppm, .12 ppm and 5.5 ppm respectively. The deep groundwater has migrated offsite and is being addressed by EPA through an order issued to GE under CERCLA.

Surface Water - Prior to the Surface Water Interim Action Enhancement system IRM, on-site surface water exceeded the SCGs for TCE (values up to 240 ppb compared to the SCG of 5 ppb), cis-1,2-DCE (values up to 100 ppb compared to the SCG of 5 ppb) and vinyl chloride (values up to 3.9 ppb compared to the SCG of .3 ppb). IRM system monitoring has demonstrated that the IRM has been effective; sampling results are non-detect for VOCs.

ASSESSMENT OF HEALTH PROBLEMS:

The site is fenced and covered by asphalt or concrete, people will not come into contact with contaminated groundwater or soil unless they dig below the surface. Volatile organic compounds in the groundwater may move into the soil vapor (air spaces within the soil), which in turn may move into the overlying buildings and affect the indoor air quality. This process similar to the movement of radon gas from the subsurface into the indoor air of buildings, is referred to as soil vapor intrusion. The potential for soil vapor intrusion to occur on-site will be evaluated should the site building be re-occupied and/or if new construction occurs.

HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSAL PERIOD: from unknown to unknown

SITE DESCRIPTION:

Location:

The Cayuga County Groundwater Contamination site is located in a generally rural area. The site consists of a plume of groundwater contaminated with volatile organic compounds (VOCs) that is approximately 7 miles long and 3 miles wide. The plume extends from the City of Auburn to the Village of Union Springs. The site is located down gradient of the former GE Powerex facility.

Site Features:

The approximate extent of the plume covers an area of approximately 3,050 acres. The area consists of residential properties intermingled with extensive farmland and patches of woodlands. Residential properties within the plume area that had detections of VOCs have been connected to one of the three public water supply systems that serve residences at the site. The three large farms have Point-of-entry treatment(POET)systems installed on their wells.

Historical Use(s):

A Preliminary Site Investigation was completed in the Fall of 2000 and identified contaminated wells. Subsequently, over 300 private drinking water wells were sampled by the NYSDOH in late 2000 and early 2001 and found that over 68 wells were contaminated with one or more of the following: cis-1,2-dichloroethene, trichloroethene, vinyl chloride, and trans-1,2-dichloroethene. By July 2001, USEPA had installed 55 individual household carbon treatment systems and two large air strippers on those supplies contaminated in excess of Federal MCLs for at least one contaminant. A state grant was administered by the Cayuga Co Health Dept. to provide treatment systems for wells which were contaminated but did not exceed the federal drinking water standards. Public water has been provided to the homes with the highest contaminant levels. The EPA, the Cayuga County Health Dept. and NYSDOH continue to monitor selected wells within the plume. The site was added to the National Priorities List (NPL) on September 5th, 2002.

Operable Units:

Based on the level of impacts to the groundwater, the Site has been divided into three areas for remediation purposes.

Area 1 consists of the impacted areas south of the former Powerex facility and extends approximately 700 to 900 feet south of West Genesee Street. In Area 1, the maximum detected concentration of cis-1,2-DCE is 89,200 ug/l.

Area 2 consists of the impacted areas south-southwest of Area 1, which extends approximately south of Pinckney Road to the southwest and to the Town of Aurelius to the south. In Area 2, concentrations of cis-1,2-DCE in residential wells were generally less than 500 ug/l. The highest concentrations of contaminants detected in Area 2 groundwater are approximately 100 times less than the highest groundwater concentrations detected in Area 1.

Area 3 consists of the impacted areas south of Area 2 extending to Union Springs. Historical concentrations of cis-1,2-DCE in residential wells were generally less than 500 ug/l.

Site Geology and Hydrogeology:

The Site has four hydrogeologic units consisting of the overburden, shallow bedrock (identified as units S1 through S3), intermediate bedrock (identified as units I1 and I2), and deep bedrock (identified as units D1 through D6). The groundwater contamination at the Site indicates that contaminants entered the overburden at the Powerex facility, moved downward from the shallow zone, through the intermediate zone via vertical fractures or karst features and into the deep zone, and then moved laterally from the facility and downgradient via groundwater flow, primarily in the D3 unit. This unit is approximately 15 to 20 feet thick and is highly transmissive due to the development of karst solutions features.

The overburden hydrogeologic unit consists of glaciolacustrine deposits of clay, silt, fine sand, and glacial till. Where present, groundwater in the overburden flows towards local surface water bodies or provides recharge to underlying bedrock units. The deep bedrock aquifer receives groundwater recharge through fractures or karst features connecting the deep and shallow bedrock units. As a result, water levels in the deep bedrock can rise rapidly in response to precipitation events. The rapid rise in hydraulic head in the D3 zone can cause upward flow along vertical fractures, faults, and/or dissolutions voids, resulting in vertical mixing of the deep and intermediate zones.

The final remedy for OU1 and OU2 requires in-situ treatment of contaminated groundwater in Area 1, monitored natural attenuation in Area 2 and measures to ensure that the Village of Union Springs public water supply treatment system is adequately equipped to protect users of its supply from Site-related contamination. The final remedy for OU3 is monitored natural attenuation. DEC has concurred with the final remedies. EPA and GE have entered into an RD/RA order to implement the remedial action.

The Record of Decision for OU1 and OU2 was signed on March 29, 2013. The Record of Decision for OU3 was signed September 2019.

CONFIRMED HAZARDOUS WASTE DISPOSED:

TYPE	QUANTITY
TRICHLOROETHENE (TCE)	UNKNOWN

ASSESSMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROBLEMS:

Nature and Extent of Contamination:

Based on the investigations, groundwater contamination extends from wells on the former Powerex facility, south to Pinckney Road and then southwest to the Village of Union Springs, a distance of approximately seven miles. The primary contaminants of concern include trichloroethene, cis-1,2-dichloroethene, trans-1,2-dichloroethene and vinyl chloride. The high concentrations of VOCs contamination was detected in samples from the deep bedrock units. Specifically, cis-1,2-DCE was detected at levels up to 89,200 ppb and vinyl chloride at concentrations up to 5,500 ppb. VOCs that reach the more transmissive deep bedrock units migrate down gradient with groundwater flow to the south and then the southwest.

The site presents a significant environmental threat due to the high contaminant concentrations above drinking and groundwater standards, and wide extent of contaminants in the primary aquifer.

ASSESSMENT OF HEALTH PROBLEMS:

Private drinking water wells with contamination above drinking water standards are treated or have been connected to a public water supply. Public water supplies in the area are also treated or obtain their water from a different source not affected by this contamination. Volatile organic compounds in the groundwater may move into the soil vapor (air spaces within the soil), which in turn may move into any buildings and affect the indoor air quality. This process, which is similar to the movement of radon gas from the subsurface into the indoor air of buildings, is referred to as soil vapor intrusion. Environmental sampling indicates soil vapor intrusion is not a concern.

Background

The Cayuga Groundwater Contamination site includes contaminated groundwater that covers about 4.8 square miles extending from Auburn to Union Springs, New York. It includes the townships of Aurelius, Fleming and Springport. The site contains mostly residential properties mixed with farmland, woodlands and commercial areas. Groundwater at the site is contaminated with volatile organic compounds (VOCs) including trichloroethylene (TCE), dichloroethene (DCE) and vinyl chloride. VOCs are potentially harmful contaminants that easily evaporate in the air. The General Electric Company (GE) owned and manufactured semiconductors at a facility on Genesee Street in Auburn. For a time, Powerex, Inc. a joint venture of GE and others, bought the facility and conducted similar operations there. The Powerex facility is being cleaned up by New York State under its state cleanup program.

The plume extends from the Powerex facility in Auburn to the Village of Union Springs a distance of seven miles. The plume impacted numerous residential wells which have been connected to public water supplies. The Village of Union Springs municipal drinking water wells have also been impacted by the plume.

What Has Been Done to Clean Up the Site?

Following the discovery of contaminated wells, EPA started an emergency response action at the site and began delivery of bottled water to the affected residences in December 2000. Of the 51 residential wells that were found to be impacted by contamination, 24 were contaminated above EPA's Removal Action Levels (RALs) for vinyl chloride and/or DCE. EPA installed point-of-entry treatment (POET) systems in homes where wells were contaminated at or above Maximum Contaminant Levels (MCLs) to ensure a safe supply of water, and provided operation and maintenance of these systems. Included in these 54 systems, four large dairy farms had air-stripper treatment systems installed. During the fall of 2001, Cayuga County extended the public water supply to provide water to affected residences. EPA continues to provide operation and maintenance of four POET systems at the affected farms.

Long-term Cleanup: EPA did a remedial investigation and feasibility study to determine the sources, nature and extent of site contamination and to evaluate remedial alternatives. In 2013 EPA selected a cleanup plan for the groundwater beneath the site which had been divided into three areas. For Area 1, which is the most contaminated area, EPA will use bioremediation, a technique that involves adding chemicals and biological enhancements to the groundwater to promote the breakdown of the VOCs. The specific type of chemical and process to be used will be determined by EPA as part of the design of the cleanup. For Area 2, which contains lower levels of VOCs, EPA will allow natural processes to reduce the level of contamination to meet groundwater standards. For Area 3, the responsible party installed the public water supply modification to the Village of Union Springs water supply. EPA deferred a cleanup plan for the groundwater in Area 3 so that further investigation of groundwater in this area, and potential impacts to surface water could be completed. EPA recently completed the additional investigations, and in July 2019 released a Proposed Plan that called for closely monitoring the natural processes causing the decrease in the level of contamination in this area until groundwater standards are met.

What Is the Current Site Status?

The site is being addressed in two stages: emergency response actions, including providing treatment systems and an alternate water supply for affected residents, and a long-term remedial phase that focuses on remediating the contaminated groundwater.

The design of the bioremediation remedy for Area 1 and the monitored natural attenuation remedy for Area 2 is currently underway. Modifications to the Village of Union Springs public water supply have been implemented by the responsible party. A final decision on the cleanup plan for Area 3 is expected in the summer of 2019.

Site Description

The Cayuga County Groundwater Contamination site ("Site") consists of a plume of contaminated groundwater from an unknown source(s). The suspected extent of the plume covers an area of approximately 3,050 acres or 4.8 square miles and falls within three townships, Aurelius, Fleming and Springport. The plume extends from the Village of Union Springs to the Auburn City limits, a distance of seven miles, and has approximately 120 homes within its boundaries. The Site is in an area consisting of residential properties intermingled with extensive farmland and patches of woodlands. The homes in the area use private wells for potable water supply and septic systems for sanitary waste water disposal. The County has installed a public water supply and the affected homes have access to it. Routine testing of the Village of Union Springs' municipal drinking water supply revealed low levels of cis-1,2,dichloroethylene (cis-1,2,DCE) and prompted referral to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). Over 300 drinking water supplies have been sampled by the New York Departments of Health and Environmental Conservation and by the EPA. As a result of these sampling events, EPA determined that 51 residential wells are contaminated with volatile organic compounds (VOCs), primarily vinyl chloride, trichloroethylene (TCE) and cis-1,2,DCE, in concentrations above the Federal maximum contaminant levels (MCLs). Twenty-four of these drinking water supply wells are contaminated above EPA's Removal Action Levels (RALs) for vinyl chloride and/or cis-1,1,DCE of 2 parts per billion (ppb) and 400 ppb, respectively.

Site Responsibility: This site is being addressed through a combination of federal, state, and municipal actions.

Threat and Contaminants

Groundwater at the Site is contaminated with VOCs, primarily cis-1,2,DCE, TCE, and vinyl chloride. Contact with or ingestion of contaminated groundwater may cause an increased risk of adverse health effects from long-term exposure. Exposure to VOCs can occur from ingestion of contaminated groundwater, ingestion of food prepared with contaminated water, or inhalation of vapors from activities such as showering. Treatment systems were installed on the wells of the affected homes and the County connected some of the homes to a public water supply. These actions are addressing the immediate threat.

Cleanup Approach

This site is being addressed in two stages: emergency response actions including providing treatment systems and an alternate water supply for the affected residents, and a long-term remedial phase which will focus on identifying and controlling the source(s) of contamination and remediating the contaminated groundwater.

Response Action Status

Immediate Actions: Following the discovery of the contaminated wells, EPA initiated an emergency response action at the Site and began delivery of bottled water to the affected residences in December 2000. Of the 51 contaminated residential wells, 24 were contaminated above EPA's Removal Action Levels (RALs) for vinyl chloride and/or cis-1,2,DCE. Under the Superfund Program, if any contaminant concentration exceeds its RAL, EPA is authorized to take immediate, short-term action to address that contamination. As a result, point-of-entry treatment (POET) systems were installed by EPA in homes where the well was contaminated at or above MCLs to ensure a safe supply of public water.

Entire Site: EPA is currently undertaking an investigation to identify potential source(s). In June 2002, EPA began a Remedial Investigation/Feasibility Study (RI/FS) investigation. The RI involves gathering groundwater, surface water and hydrogeological data needed to determine the nature and extent of contamination at the Site and the FS involves evaluating appropriate alternatives to address the contamination. Based on the RI results a Record of Decision (ROD) will be issued selecting a remedy to address the groundwater contamination at the site.

Site Facts: Following the proposed listing of the Site on the National Priorities List in 2001, EPA commenced a search for parties that might be responsible for the contamination.

Cleanup Progress

As part of the initial emergency response action, from January 2001 to March 2001, EPA installed 54 POET systems in homes where the well was contaminated at or above MCLs to ensure a safe supply of water, and provided operation and maintenance of these systems. Included in these 54 systems, two large dairy farms in the impacted area had air-stripper treatment systems installed. During the fall of 2001, the County undertook an expansion of the public water supply that provides water to the affected residences. EPA continues to provide operation and maintenance of four POET systems to the affected farms. EPA is performing an RI/FS at the Site. In addition, EPA continues the search for potentially responsible parties.

SITE DESCRIPTION

As part of routine sampling at the Village of union Springs water supply, cis-1,2-DCE was found. A subsequent preliminary site assessment by the NYSDEC revealed additional CVOCs extending northeastward to the outskirts of Auburn, a distance of over 7 miles. Several residents are impacted by contaminated drinking water. The site is eligible for a removal action.
